MG140 is a mobile filter system for up to two work stations. The filter system is designed to extract gases and particles generated during different processes, soldering, gluing, solvents etc.

The filter system is equipped with a high effective 3-stage filter, that protects the operator from hazardous particles and gases, consisting of:

Pre filter bag	Class F8
Particle filter	HEPA class H13
Gas filter media	Activated carbon and potassium permanganate

MG140 is easy to maintain and use. It requires no installations and can easily be moved around between different workplaces.
